Dear Liz,

My name is Johannes Weber and I'm a recent LighthouseLabs grad seeking to transition from Live and Broadcast Production to a web development career. I have been passionate about coding for many years and have regularly written Node/Express apps – sometimes interfacing with hardware through RaspberryPI or ESP32 micro-controllers - to solve problems, automate processes or otherwise streamline tasks in my role as the head of the production department at Tenth Church. Among other things the LighthouseLabs bootcamp experience allowed me to learn modern JS, git, React, Ruby on Rails, and working remotely in teams.

I found your job posting on LinkedIn and I would be grateful if you considered my application.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me. I'm looking forward to connecting with you.

Thank you for your time,

Johannes Weber
